"MEMORIES"

Memories are strange; they play tricks on us. A room we were in many years ago might look much smaller now when we visit it again, maybe even shaped differently and not looking the same at all.

Memories of people are also a riddle; we might often just remember the good times. As time passes by we might recall snatches of conversation or a particular expression on a face or hands.

Patrick Kavanagh remembered his father that way, because he was always old looking to him and he saw him after death in other old men's expressions or faltering step.

Mary Magdalen saw Jesus in the garden after His resurrection but thought he was a gardener, possibly because he was no longer familiar to her after His death. But then he called her name..."Mary".....and it was He once more again.

May God bless us all in our memories this weekend.

Fr. Donal
