Mission Sunday, 21st/22nd October

John 17: 11,17-23

SENT

As we hear in Mission Sunday's Gospel, Jesus sends his followers into the world to be beacons of hope and love, love of God and of the neighbour. It is only such twin loves that will attract followers, invite imitation, evoke compassionate, generous, commitment and respect leading to an appreciation of the Father as the giver of all good gifts.

Sent by the Father, Jesus was not only the teacher about such love. He gave his life to it. He is the living exemplar and sustainer of such goodness. His followers are called to be an oasis of love in a broken world.

Here at home, many people commit themselves enthusiastically to this way of living. God bless them. Others are called to be full time volunteers bringing the compassionate presence of Jesus to the ends of the earth. It is such missionaries that we support this weekend by our prayers and our money.

Many missionaries are in the poorest parts of the world and it is always the poor who are hardest hit in times of recession. We are asked only to give what we can afford, but to give even when it hurts.

Important though money is, we cannot buy our way out of our responsibility. Each family is called to be a missionary one. The need of our time is that Gospel values be lived in every family. It is up to each of us to start to do it.

Fr. Tom.
